SO ORDERED.

LEWIS J. LIMAN
United States District Judge

July 2, 2024

Dear Judge Liman:

This office represents Plaintiff. I owe an apology to both the Court and my adversary. I had drafted an adjournment/extension request letter to the Court a few weeks ago but I forgot to file it. This is my fault and not my opposing counsel.

The parties jointly request an extension to provide the Court with the FLSA settlement application and therefore to adjourn today's conference. The settlement application papers are currently due on June 28, 2024 and we are requesting a two-week extension until July 12, 2024. My office had a dispute with Veritext with respect to a deposition invoice that was resolved yesterday. The parties have agreed to the settlement language—all that is left is for the parties to sign.

This is the parties first request for an extension. We appreciate the Court's consideration.

Again, I apologize for the last-minute request. I truly thought I had filed the adjournment papers.

Respectfully submitted,

By: /s Jacob Aronauer
